

Aviation Security Newsletter

From Chairman: Ian V. Nichols:

We would like to share a few important updates and insights following a recent meeting with Diego Flores, 21 Air Director of Security.

Known Crewmember (KCM) Program Update

The KCM program will soon transition to a facial recognition platform. This change is expected to enhance both security and efficiency. Beards will continue to be permitted, so there will be no changes to current grooming policies.

Prior to implementation, training will be provided to the pilots, to ensure all members are prepared for the new system. An added benefit of this transition is that members will receive complimentary TSA PreCheck membership.

Federal Flight Deck Officer (FFDO) Program

At this time, we are awaiting further updates regarding the company's position on pilot participation in the FFDO program and how we handle other Airlines members who are FFDO wanting to jumpseat with their weapons on 21 Air aircraft.

We will continue to keep you informed as more information becomes available.

Stay tuned for further updates.
